

Código:

PROCEDIMIENTO SELECTIVO DE INGRESO AL CUERPO DE PROFESORES DE ESCUELAS OFICIALES DE IDIOMAS 2021

PRIMERA PRUEBA: A.1. EJERCICIO DE COMPRENSIÓN DE TEXTO ORAL

NOTA IMPORTANTE: una vez comenzado este ejercicio, se desarrollará sin interrupción. Si desea abandonar la prueba, deberá esperar a la completa finalización de esta parte.

Listen to the CNN Political Briefing Harris Takes the Reign on Voting Rights. For sentences (1-10) complete the gaps with ONE OR TWO words according to what you hear. Write the exact words you hear. Sentence 0 is given as an example. You have 1 minute to read the statements. You will listen to it twice.

0. Vice President Harris has been urged to fight the voting rights battle. However, if Biden starts taking jabs at his fellow Democrats, it is going to be a difficult task.
1. One of the most high profile battles this legislative session is the _____ voting rights legislation that the Republicans are trying to pass.
2. The newsreader has the impression that Harris is being given the toughest _____ over and over, since she already has to deal with the immigration issue, as well as with other tough political battles.
3. Since not all Democrats are in agreement with passing the For the People Act, this bill is still _____ in the Senate.
4. If the former president of the USA keeps on spreading that kind of dangerous _____ which his supporters will surely believe, the violence seen on January 6th might repeat again.
5. The statements made by Biden in Oklahoma, clearly referring to Joe Manchin and Kyrsten Sinema, throw a bit of _____ toward his colleagues.
6. In his speech, Biden did not blatantly mention the two senators who oppose ending the legislative _____ with the purpose of adding up to the necessary number of votes that allows getting bills through.
7. When the White House press secretary offered a piece of _____ when asked about the president needling those Democratic senators and whether that was a wise move.
8. The president's commentary wasn't just about TV _____.
9. His commentary was meant to show the Democratic base that he's willing to fight for this _____ issue of voting rights.
10. McDaniel considers that actions of the CPD board members and their repeated _____, clearly shows the organization no longer provides a fair and impartial forum for presidential debates.

KEY

1. One of the most high profile battles this legislative session is the _____ voting rights legislation that the Republicans are trying to pass. (restrictive)
2. The newsreader has the impression that Harris is being given the toughest _____ over and over, since she already has to deal with the immigration issue, as well as with other tough political battles. (assignments)
3. Since not all Democrats are in agreement with passing the For the People Act, this bill is still _____ in the Senate. (stalled)
4. If the former president of the U.S.A keeps on spreading that kind of dangerous _____ which his supporters will surely believe, the violence seen on January 6th might repeat again. (rhetoric)
5. The statements made by Biden in Oklahoma, clearly referring to Joe Manchin and Kyrsten Sinema, throw a bit of _____ toward his colleagues. (an elbow)
6. In his speech, Biden did not blatantly mention the two senators who oppose ending the legislative _____ with the purpose of adding up to the necessary number of votes that allows getting bills through. (filibuster)
7. When the White House press secretary offered a piece of _____ when asked about the president needling those Democratic senators and whether that was a wise move. (spin)
8. The president's commentary wasn't just about TV _____. (punditry)
9. His commentary was meant to show the Democratic base that he's willing to fight for this _____ issue of voting rights. (top tier)
10. McDaniel considers that actions of the CPD board members and their repeated _____, clearly shows the organization no longer provides a fair and impartial forum for presidential debates. (missteps)